

A cartoon illustration depicting a state of confusion or uncertainty. Three stick figures are shown: one in the foreground holding a document with a red triangle containing a question mark, and two others in the background also holding similar documents. Above each person is a thought bubble containing a red triangle with a question mark. A large yellow box on the right side of the image contains a list of numbers (1, 2, 3, 4, ...) next to horizontal lines, and a red triangle with an exclamation mark in the center, with arrows pointing up and down. A large yellow star with the number 1 is at the bottom center.
